TRUTH IS MOTHER OF VIRTUE

In Ancient Mythology She Was Pledge of Honesty and Bulwark of Honor.

In the ancient mythology, Truth was a goddess and the mother of Virtue. She wore garments as white as snow; her looks were serene, pleasant, courteous, cheerful, and yet modest; she was the pledge of all honesty, the bulwark of honor and the light and joy of human society.

Such was truth, which in these days is much abused. We are so apt to think if we have truth on our side we have a right to be proud, arbitrary and even insolent; but when we act that way we may be sure that the truth is not our ally. Truth is not rude and unkind. It does not bawl and bellow and shake its fist under our nose. Truth is friendly, and when it isn't it is a lie.

There is another thought one gets from the mythological faith, and that is this, that Virtue is the daughter of Truth. So if a man's life is presided over by truth, it is necessarily a virtuous and honorable life, and if it isn't that kind of a life he may know that it is born of error and wrong. When we see a man attacking another or another's cause with prejudice, hate and angry words, we turn about and go up street in sorrow, for that man who has never learned that there can be no truth not born of virtue.—Ohio State Journal.

SAVED FROM DEATH

W. L. Mock of Mack, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. What I always like to do, he writes, is to recommend Dr King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grip, croup, asthma or other bronchial affections, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made. Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by S. E. McGeachy.

MADE HIS HAIR FALL OUT

Charge Made by Wilkesbarre Miner Who Declared That His Mother-in-Law Had Bewitched Him.

The Wilkesbarre workers are at it again. This time a chap wants his mother-in-law arrested for bewitching him, making his hair fall out. What do you think about that? The poor piece of putty has asked Alderman Donohue, who "pulls" the people at Wilkesbarre, to put his wife's mother in "hoc." "My wife declared," he explained to the alderman, "that she would stick by me as long as I had a hair in my head. Since then my mother-in-law has been bewitching me and making my hair fall out in bunches, thinking that she will get my wife to leave me. Every time she combs her hair she takes the combings, does some powwowing over them, burns them and then tells the ashes to make my hair fall out. Ever since she has done it my hair has been coming out in bunches and I'm afraid that I'll lose my hair and my wife as well." The alderman shook his head. "You have my sympathy," he said, "but there is no law in Pennsylvania that makes a good tonic for falling hair." There must be something else the matter with this man besides falling of the hair, and it's our humble opinion that he's taking either a few "high balls" too many or too few, but we can hardly think that a Wilkesbarre man would be guilty of the latter.—New Orleans Picayune.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by All Dealers.

It Helps!

Mrs. J. F. Daniels, of Sip, Ky., writes: "I was so sick for 3 or 4 years, I had to hire my work done, most of the time. I had given up hope. When I began to take Cardui, I knew, right away, it was helping me. Now, I am better than ever before in my life, and Cardui did it."

HAVE NEW INDUSTRY.

The quaintest industry to which the new science of aviation has given birth is carried on at Brooklands aerodrome. It can be summed up in one word—risks. Two aviators, both young, both unmarried, both free from any responsibilities whatever, have joined in a sporting offer to the world of aeroplane inventors. They will take any form of aerial invention, even the wildest nightmare of mechanics, and they will make it fly—that is, if any human agency can. If not, they take the falls. When they have sorted themselves out from the remains of the would-be aeroplane, they explain to the inventor why his machine just missed being a success, and thus forewarned the inventor starts to build another.—London Mail.

I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by All Dealers.

HOW CHINA LIVES.

No natural resource is too trifling to be turned to account by the teeming population. The sea is raked and strained for edible plunder. Sea-weed and kelp have a place in the larder. Great quantities of shellfish no bigger than one's finger-nail, are opened and made to yield a food that finds its way far inland. The fungus that springs up in the grass after a rain is eaten. Fried sweet potato vines furnish the poor man's table. The roadside ditches are bailed out for the sake of fishes no longer than one's finger.

Careful observers say that four-fifths of the conversation among common Chinese relates to food.—Edward Alsworth Ross, in Century.

BALKED AT COLD STEEL.

I wouldn't let a doctor cut my foot off, said H. D. Ely, Bantam, O., altho a horrible ulcer had been the plague of my life for four years. Instead I used Bucklin's Arnica Salve and my foot was soon completely cured. Heals burns, boils, sores, bruises, eczema, pimples, corns; surest cure 25c at S. E. McGeachy's.
